Shortly after noon the watchman. Roy Bond, who was in the rear of the garage, discovered fire in the front, adjoining Magnolia strect. He telephoned for the fire apparatus, but the flames quickly spread over the oily floors and attacked the cars, which proved easy prey because of the oil and gas they contained.

The cause of this blaze is unde-

The cause of this blaze is undetermined, but it was explained that it might have originated from a cigarette butt tessed within the garage from the street. The building was open for Sunday business, with Bond on duty, but he said he had been in the rear for some time before the fire was discovered.

The flames were brisk and spread rapidly, and soon enveloped the building and contents. The garage and auto shop were virtually a total loss, as well as most of the thirty machines, although some of the cars can be repaired.

The garage will continue business utilizing its blacksmith shop, adjoining, for garage purposes, until a new structure is built. A great crowd, mostly negroes, were attracted to the fire, which proved spectacular, the gas and oil flames shooting high in the air.

Japan Causing Trouble.

The outstanding difficulties in the way of an agreement are understood to be the refusal of the Japanese to concede the principle of equality of all nations in cable landing rights on the island of Yap, one of the most important centers of cable communication in the Pacific, and the refusal of the French to make concessions to the United. cific, and the refusal of the French to make concessions to the United States and Italy of the German trans-Atlantic cable seized by the French in 1914 and diverted from Emden, Germany, to Brest, France. U. S. and Italy Want Cable.

The United States and Italy have asked for the former German trans. Atlantic cable now in possession of the French in order that it might be relaid between New York and Genoa, Italy, and afford a direct means of cable communication petween the two countries. They have supported their claim for this cable with the contention that while neither Italy nor the United States obtained any of the German cables. France now has in her possession not only the trans-Atlantic line, but several of the former German system skirting the African coast.

The delegates at the plenary sessions last night and today are understood to have approved the work of the technical subcommittee charged with drafting provisions of international law governing the use of the cables, radio and the telegraph and framing of an amalgamated telegraph and radio convention. These reports are expected to be submitted to the world congress on communications to be held next year in Europe.

It is a time for simple, earnest, honest conservation of manhood, when nothing can take the place of Jesus Christ. The standard of the Church of God must be upheld though the way may be steep and difficult.

"We must hold on to the construction all the world and teach the things through all life. The common standard Jesus gave for us to go into all the world and teach the things the taught has been that which the church has ever taught and needs to teach now more than ever.

Lines Clutched in Hand.

"During the great world war there was found in the trenches the body of an Australian soldier, nameless, unknown, who held in his clenched hand a few lines that he had written evidently as the call to the world. No more expressive poems has been penned in all the literature of that great struggle.

At St. Mark's church Dr. S. E. Wasson, the new pastor, preached Sunday morning from the text, Matt. 18-19, "Go ye therefore and teach all nations, baptizing them in the Name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost; teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you, and lo, I am with you alway, even unto the end of the world." He said in part:

"This same commission is given by all the evangelists. It is the organization of all our assemblies to day. It is the express and unequivocal command of Jesus to the people for all the Christian activities. There is none of the passive, supine or negative expression of other religions, but the positive, active command of the Savior of men.

Opportunity No. 1.

Four little children, all under 9, and an invalid sister require all of this mother's time. The father died of tuberculosis two years ago, leaving a fear of the disease and a financial burden on the mother's shoulders. She now has no income, and were it not for the help of a friend whom the Associated Charitles has found for her she would have no shelter. She is struggling along trying to keep the two oldest children in school.

Fifteen follars a week during the coming year will relieve her mind from financial strain and enable her to care for her sister and little children. Total needed, $720.

Opportunity No. 2.

It's not such a bad world, thinks feekle-faced Jimmie, aged 12. A fairy godfather will surely help him out, for he wants to go to school. As things are now there are mother and baby sister who need so many things and he feels he must work to help buy the needs so many things and he feels he must work to help buy the needs of mother and baby sister who need so many things and he feels he must work to help buy the needs on many things and he feels he must work to help buy the needs on many things and he feels he must work to help buy the needs on many things and he feels he must work to help buy the needs on many things and he feels he must work to help buy the needs on many things and he feels he must work to help buy the needs on many things and he feels he must work to help buy the needs on many things and he feels he must work to help buy the needs on many things and he feels he must work to help buy the needs on many things and he feels he must work to help buy the needs on many things and he feels he must work to help buy the needs of the mother and baby sister who need so many things and he feels he must work to help buy the needs to retail the proportion the real many things and he feels he must work to help buy the needs to retail the feel of the feel Hearings on Tax Revision.

Chairman Fordney, of the house ways and means committee, announced today that his committee was prepared to begin hearings tomorrow on tax revision legislation. These hearings will continue until the Christmas recess and early in January the hearings on tariff revision will begin. Neither tariff nor tax revision will be attempted at this session, leaders have agreed, but the hearings are designed to permit prompt action at the extra session to be called by President-elect Harding soon after his inauguration.

Coming Year-Big Dance to Be Held on Wednesday, Decem-

With the date of the next ceremonial session of Yaarab temple set for Tuesday, January 25, the nobility of Yaarab temple will be brought together in several meetngs of a varied nature before that date. The first of these will be the annual business meeting to be held in Masonic temple Wednesday, December 15, at which time annual reports will be read and officers

Progress in the formation of the widow's fund" insurance plan will also be reported, and the present prospects are that the charter mem-bership of 500 will soon be com-pleted, certificates will be issued, and the officers of the fund will be ready to pay death benefits under the rules adopted at the last business session.

Recorder Argard desires that nobles in remitting their Shrine dues and the assessment for the Crippied Children's hospital and applications for membership in the "widow's fund" make their remittances in separate checks. The dues for 1921 plus the assessment calls for a check of $7 and should be made payable to George E. Argard, recorder. Checks accompanying applications to the "widow's fund" should be for $6.20 and made payable to George E. Argard, secretary-treasurer. The money of the "widow's fund" is kept entirely separate from the regular Shrine funds.

The second affair that is engrossing the attention of the nobility and which interests the wives and sweethearts of the Shriners is the big Christmas ball that will be held Wednesday evening. December 22, at Druid Hills club. Potentate Henry C. Heinz has appointed Past Potentate Forrest Adair chairman of the committee on arrangements and entertainment, and plans are under way to make it the most enjoyable social affair ever held by Yaarab temple. Nobles will wear fezzes and evening dress, and admission will be by 1920 Shrine card. There will be no charge, and no formal invitations will be issued, the affair being open to all members of Yaarab and sojourning nobles and their ladies.

EVERY department in the store offers special values this Holiday season, and we would like to impress upon the people who are waiting to purchase merchandise that in our opinion MERCHANDISE IS LOWER IN PRICE TODAY THAN IT WILL EVER BE AGAIN.

There are reasons, good commercial reasons, why merchants all over the country are reducing merchandise to prices which in many cases do not represent cost to them.

After January 1st these reasons will cease to exist, and normalcy in merchandising will again be the order of the day. So the time to purchase, not only for Christmas but for every day needs, is NOW. Not after January 1st.

And among the first things that Judge Landis should do—and if he's the man that everybody says he is —will do it to curb the rapacity of those excellent sportsmen, Messrs. Huston and Ruppert, who last season made a three-ring circus out of the grand old game.

On account of its climate the south has an early annual visit from major league ball clubs. These clubs come south, not because they rlubs come south, not because they are particularly wanted; they come south because they can get better training results here than in any other section of the country. They use southern ball parks and they rejoice mightily when they can gather in some southern shekels for their exhibition games.

They generally depart with the haughty attitude that they have conferred a glowing benefit on the southern cities they have visited, and their war correspondents write thrilling tales of how the southerners live on a diet of hog meat, hominy, reminiscences of Bull Run, negro lynchings, possum hunting and lynchings, possum hunting and ilar junk that they think is htily entertaining for their clientele.

The south years ago became mighty tired of the annual visits of the major leaguers. For a few seasons they fell for the bunk that they were to be given the privilege of seeing the stars of the big tent in action: But it didn't take many seasons for them to discover that the exhibition games made up a catch-penny trick by which the major league managers could try out bush league material and gather in the wherewithal to pay hotel bills and similar inconveniences of a and similar inconveniences of a training season.

Now we get to Messrs. Huston and Ruppert. These gentlemen own the New York Yankees, who own Babe Ruth, who broke all home run records last year and the year before.

Mr. Ruth is considered baseball's greatest drawing card, He undoubtedly is. And so those gentle spirits, Messrs. Ruppert and Huston, come out with this declaration: They will play bail and exhibit Mr. Ruth and his big bat in certain southern cities during the spring training tour. All this is very kind.

But for the privilege of showing Mr. Ruth they will insist on the owners of the Southern league of the Southern league cernéd, it made scoring for the atheres as far as scoring was concerned.

All this is very kind.

But for the privilege of showing Mr. Ruth they will insist on the owners of the Southern league parks giving unto the tills of Mr. Tilly Huston the modest sum of 85 per cent of every nickel that comes in through the gate every time Mr. Huth is put on display.

football honors with Centre college of Kentucky last season and threw a scare into Harvard this year. All these honors were showered on him by Kentucky despite the fact that he is a Texan, born and raised.

But when the Kentucky executive did pass out this commission he set a new fashion for state executives. Maybe in a few days Governor Dorsey will make Captain Flowers, of Tech, General Buck Flowers, K. E. H. (Knight of the End Run), or when Governor Hardwick takes office he will name Artie Pew a member of his staff with the title Sir Arthur Pew, K. S. L. (Knight of the Smashed Line). Anyhow, the situation is fraught with football and political possibilities.

A. A. C.'s Best Attack.

Eminent strategists in the gentle game of warfare have long agreed that one of the most formidable at-tacks that could be formulated is a perfect defense. Mike Donahue has tacks that could be formulated is a perfect defense. Mike Donahue has long practiced this theory and practiced it successfully in football. Freddie Welsh won a world's championship with the same theory in boxing. So did James J. New York, December 12.—The tentative draft of the proposed new national baseball agreement which is to be the government of the sport, was accepted today by the major and minor league committees, which have been working on the document the last two days. The agreement, as accepted by the committees, was drafted last night by Judge Kennesaw Mountain Landis, George Wharton Pepper, of Phila-New York, December 12 .- The get away with any such high-bindery, but the fact that they pro-pose it merely shows that Judge Landis has a man-sized job. The governor of Kentucky paid a semi-official visit to New York last week, probably because Kentucky isn't what it used to be, and the public prints declare that New York with the study of the committees, was drafted last night by Judge Kennesaw Mountain Landis, which have been working on the document the last two days. The agreement, as accepted by the committees, was drafted last night by Judge Kennesaw Mountain Landis, George Wharton Pepper, of Philadelphia, John Conway Toole, of New York, and J. C. Jones, of St. Louis. The committee submitted two tentative agreements, one between the National and American leagues, and the other between the major leagues and the National Association of Professional Baseball leagues, the minor league organization.

Action on the agreement between public prints declare that New York is, only the stuff costs more. With him were members of his personal staff, and, wearing the uniform of a colonel of that same staff, was none other than Colonel Bo Mc-Millin, K. F. P. (meaning Knight of the Forward Pass), who has done more to call attention to Kentucky than any one man since Cateb Powers.

Colonel McMillin was given a uniform and a sword and a title because he achieved All-American football honors with Centre college of Kentucky last season and threw a scare into Harvard this year. The latter will hold a meeting at Chicago, January 10, to take final action as an association, and January 12 there will be a joint ratification meeting at Chicago to be participated in by the National and American leagues and the National association.

Important Point.

The most important controversial point in the proposed agreement between the major leagues and the minors was that relating to the drafting of players from one league by another of higher classification. The point was not definitely settled by the committees because of the known opposition to the American association and the International league to restoration of the draft. International league to restoration of the draft.

Some class A leagues also are op-posed to it, while all leagues below class A favor it. The American association and the International league, it is said, would have no objection to a draft provision, if the price for players so taken by the major league clube is fixed at $7,500. It is understood the major leagues are willing to make the price $5,000.

major leagues are willing to make the price $5,000.

In order to make progress toward the completion of the new national agreement, the joint committee ac-cepted a provision that the draft be optional. The clause would permit the drafting of players by the major leagues only from those lower leagues that favor such operation, but any minor league that rejects but any minor league that rejects tht proposition will not be permitted to draft players from leagues of lower classification. Thus if the American association and the Inter-national league continue their op-position to the draft they will be prohibited from drafting players

"My Bell Rang"

"Excuse it, Please"

About 9,000 times every day telephone subscribers in Atlanta start a call and abandon it before it is completed. They hang up the receiver before getting an answer.

In some cases the person called is slow in answering. In many cases the person calling decides the call is not desired.

The result is that annoying report, "My hell rang," and needless answering and waiting at the telephone.

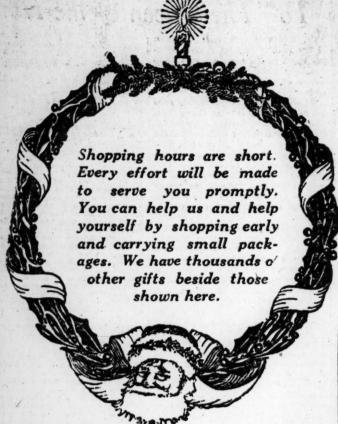

Almost every one who is disturbed in this way naturally blames the operator for the inconvenience.

We instruct the operators to say "Excuse it, please," to avoid an argument.

Care in this matter will greatly reduce the number of unnecessary calls and assist the operators in their efforts to improve the service.

QUR LOST FOUR MONTHS. Under the caption, "Our Lost Four Months and How We Might Save Them," The Boston Globe a few days ago presented a strong James Morgan, substantiating the Constitution in regard to the United States government's lack of prompt responsiveness to the expressed will of the people.

As we pointed out, and as The Boston Globe contributor maintains, the constitutional provision that after the election of a new administration four months must elapse before the country can begin to experience the results of the election, is a defect in our government, and one that ought to be corrected.

Every four years we elect a president, and it frequently happens that in the voting the people express a desire for a complete change in governmental policy.

Such was the case on last election day, when the people voted by an overwhelming majority to supplant the demeocratic by a resupplant the demeocratic by a reblican administration: but nevertheless, having so voted, the either mechanical defects or compeople must wait until next March | petency of drivers. before realizing the change for which they voted.

In the meantime the administration that has been voted out is rendered practically powerless to function, except in the handling of purely routine matters of government, for the reason that it has not the backing and approval of rather than in the garage! the people.

Thus, as Mr. Morgan declares in his Boston Globe article, this quadrennially recurring hiatus in our government is both "absurd and wasteful;" and, more than that "it is perilous and sometimes may cost us dearly."

"We waste four months of the term of every president, or a full twelfth of his administration," says this Boston writer-

"For from the moment that his successor is elected his power is gone at the very source-he has a twinkling, and where, when a national election is held, the voting is done, the new administration is installed and the whole business over within less than two weeks.

In the interests of good government our system should be changed -as it could be very handily. inals."

All that is necessary is to change our constitution to meet the requirements.

As Mr. Morgan suggests-

"It would be entirely feasible to hold the election in November, as now, and count and certify the vote in time to install both the new president and the new congress in December. There is no reason why the mere choosing of a cabinet and the organization of an administration should take us hustling Americans any longer than it takes the slow-going English and Europeans to do the same thing."

This is a subject that is well worth thoughtful consideration by the people pending the inauguration of the new administration and new congress next March.

WHERE THE FAULT LIES. In an effort to get at the real cause of the increasing number of automobile accidents, the Brooklyn police department recently set and a country estate albeit he always appeared a dullard. A chill wind blowing and I resolved to buy heavier undergarments. tor vehicle encountered on certain streets was stopped by a uniformed officer and examined by an expert mechanic assistant.

Of the machines examined during the week about 500 were found to be improperly adjusted or otherwise defective from the standpoint of safety.

In each instance the driver was told what was wrong with his machine and ordered to see to it that the defects were corrected and doubtless some accidents were prevented by the corrections made in compliance with those instructions.

But the number of defective machines found was nowhere dancing nearly proportionate with the of automobile accidents number that had taken place during a corresponding period of time upon those same streets: that fact accidents that fault lies more with the driver than with the

In Atlanta, for instance, as in Brooklyn, it is undoubtedly true that many who pilot high-power motor cars through the busy streets are absolutely incompetent and wholly unfit to be in charge of an instrument so potential in destructive possibilities. And the fact that incompetents-mere children, or adults with flighty, undependable nerves, or men of intemperate habits-are permitted to hold steering wheels of machines capable of mowing down human beings like a cannonball probably is responsible for a large number of street casualties; but at that it is probably also true that it is not so much the lack of ability on the part of those who operate cars as it is their indif-

Enormous Sums Owed by Uncle Sam Are Maturing Within the Next Few Days - Government Is Endeavoring to Start a Paper Industry Boom in Alaska - Anti-Saloon League Against "Blue Laws."

BY JAMES A. HOLLOMON

Washington, December 12.—(Speilal.)—With all the fabulous wealth of Uncle Sam, and with all of his esources, the fact stands out that cial.)-With all the fabulous wealth of Uncle Sam, and with all of his resources, the fact stands out that his maturing debts are so heavy they are staggering to contemplate. The average American citizen is un-acquainted with the obligations of his own government. He knows his own government. He knows that Uncle Sam always pays his debts; that his credit is the best in the world; that whatever may be the deficits something will happen to make the meeting of maturing obligations possible; and with a contented feeling he rather disdains the idea of delving into big figures to find out what is paid out, and what debts are maturing.

Secretary Houston, who is the center now of a public opinion barrage that is perhaps without a parallel in history, has just announced the offering of two new series of treasury certificates of indebtedness, bearing interest from December 15, and in his letter to the banks of the country gave some interesting figures on maturing debts—figures that make one wonder how in the name of Heaven they are go in the name of Heaven they are going to be even with the vast re-sources of the government. To illustrate—

About $700,000,000 of treasury cerificates of indebtedness mature on December 15, about $175,000,000 on January 3, and about $125,000,000 on January 3, and about $125,000,000 on January 15. On the 15th of December the semi-annual interest on the first Liberty loan amounts to $140,000,000. Then there is the payment in January to the railroads, under the transportation act, amounting to another hundred millions, and so on. And I have only scratched the surface, when it comes to figuring Uncle Service. scratched the surface, when it comes to figuring Uncle Sam's ob-

The Tongass and Chugach National forests comprise 20,574,000 acres of land and include practically all of land and include practically all of the best timber along the coast of Alaska. The sales of timber are increasing steadily and receipts from the two forests for the last fiscal year exceeded one hundred thousand dollars. With the development of a paper industry, which is now in sight, officials of the forest service expect that the receipts will be greatly augmented. The Anti-Saloon league has but one task, that is to fight the beverage liquor traffic. There is plenty of work ahead for some time to complete this task." The conference was called to discuss amendments to the Volstead act. Mr. Wheeler declared that the Anti-Saloon league will not favor adding amendmnets to the Volstead act at this time.

"It is unwise to tear a law to pieces at the first session after it was enacted unless, some vital defect appears. The law is not perfect, but whatever additions are needed can be included in a separate bill. Most of the difficulties in law enforcement come from the withdrawal of liquors from bonded warehouses and the fallure of certain officials to do their duty. These defects will not be remedied by amendments to the Volstead act."

Bills are pending in congress now to concentrate the liquors in the bonded warehouses into a few places, and thus better safeguard them from theft and illegal with-drawals. The distillers' lobby is for this bill, because it prevents theft, and the drys are for it, because it will give better protection from il-legal distribution of the liquor. Wholesale permits are the source of great lawlessness, and they

ONE NEGRO SHOT OFFICER'S STOLEN AND FIVE JAILED AUTO RECOVERED; AFTER CRAP GAME TWO ARE JAILED

The automobile of Federal Agent George M. Hicks, which was stolen last Thursday night from East Baker street, near Ivy, was recovered early Sunday morning by City Detectives Armstrong and Austin, who placed C. W. Lampkin, aged 37, of 156 Courtland street, and J. L. Nash, 32, address not given, under arrest in connection with its theft. A blanket charge of suspicion was docketed against each.

The automobile was found in the outskirts of the city by the detectives shortly after the arrest of the two men. It is said to have been stolen within a few minutes after it had been parked by Officer Hicks, who was investigating reported violations of the prohibition laws. In a raid conducted by DeKalb county police officials on an alleged crap game at Ingleside on Sunday afternoon, Robert Giddings, negro, was shot in the right leg and he and five other negroes were captured and lodged in jail at Decatur. construction on the nighways in this district totals more than a million and a half dollars. Some of these are large bridges, the appropriation for which was made before the district office was opened here, and some were made after it was opened. All projects are now under its supervision.

Included in the work are a new bridge over the Oconee river at Dublin, six new bridges on the River road in Laurens county, a large new bridge on the Dublin-Macon road near Dudley, another bridge at Sandy Ford and two bridges under construction in Laurens between Dublin and Adrian. In Bleckley county, adjoining, two bridges have been completed, and the road is to be rebuilt from Cochrant to the Laurens line. Other items include a new bridge over the clude a new bridge over mulgee at Hawkinsville. Ocmulgee at Hawkinsville, two large bridges over creeks at that place, a new bridge over Big Indian creek at Perry on the national high-way, a stretch of road from Alamo to the Oconee river, including all bridges and culverts; a new bridge over the Oconee at Mount Vernon, ten miles of new road from this bridge to the Toombs county line, ten miles of road in Telfair county et ween McRae and Lumber City, a arge fill near Abbeville, repairing of fourteen miles of road between of fourteen miles of road between hawkinsville and Perry, nine miles of road between Dry Branch and Jeffersonville, to be started after the first of the year, and completed surveys for a bridge at Lumber City

City.
All these and several minor jobs All these and several minor jobs are now either actually under way or will be under way soon. Bridges must be built before roads are possible, and these are receiving first attention. There are 45.5 miles of road-building in hand, however, and as time passes the amount put on roads can be increased greatly. The district highway office has been open at Dublin considerably under a year, but is making a splendid showing already. Three large projects are being pushed to conclusion, those at Dublin, Harkinsville and Mount Vernon. Others are coming along steadily. Work on the bridge at Perry has just begun. All are being built of reinforced concrete with the most approved design and solidity of construction.

the people sleeping within hearing dreamed the same thing. Not that they dreamed of exactly the same circumstances or of the same persons, but their dreams had the same central thought. The word 'home' is made of four letters, whose music will yet control the dream of humanity.

"A writer of the middle ages uttered this of his wife: 'O, woman! thou art queen; thy throne is the home, thy crown is motherhood, and thy scepter is pure and unselfish love. And in these latter days an American statesman uttered a sentiment as fine: It is not the throned and sceptered king; it is not the statesman with his midnight lamp; it is not the warrior grimed with smoke and stained with blood—it is the queen of the home who, under God, rules the destinies of this world. I say unto you, the sweetest thou art queen; thy throne is the

Dr. Henry Alford Porter, pastor about 'woman's rights.' I hope she gets every right that is hers, but let her not forget that her supreme day night paid a beautiful tribute to woman in his sermon, entitled, "The Queen of, the Home." In part, he said:

"In some curious experiments conducted recently, it was found that when four certain notes were struck of the woman is the head of the home, and the woman is the head of the home.

"In part, he woman is the head of the home, the woman is the head of the home, and the woman is the head of the home, the woman is the head of the home. common drunkard. She fills the cup of husband and children with bitterness. When a woman, whose husband had gone out from home husband had sweeping to her room, her eyes fell on the words, 'What would Jesus do?' She thought, 'He would not be rritable and hasty, as when her husband would not be rritable and hasty, as I have been. When her husband came home at night, he found a new woman. Love had come to reign. And together they rebuilt their home nest stronger and better than the queen of the nome who, under God, rules the destinies of this world. I say unto you, the sweetest wisdom of this world is a woman's counsel, and the purest altar from which human prayer ever went up to heaven is a mother's knee.'

She Finds Supremacy.

"Woman may rival her husband—in the avenues of trade, in intellectual pursuits—but she finds supremacy only as queen in the home. Many a woman, herself and unaided, has made out of a house a home.

"The queenly woman shows her queenliness by counting her home her kingdom. I will not say that home is woman's only career. It is not a career at all; it is a life. You could pack a hundred careers and all the accomplishments into it. "There is much agitation today" that will more surely crush out life and gladness than the burden of debt.

"Then, surely, the queen of the home should be a Christian. The dahlia would be the empress of flowers had it only fragrance. We have all known women who were queens in everything else, but lack-de that subtle influence, that sweet fragrance, which the religion of Christ alone can give.

"Who can tell the influence which radiates from a Christian home? If I should ask you men who has had the greatest influence upon your lives, you would tell me of the baby girl or of her whom your children call mother. But back of these there is another influence, which red that subtle influence which radiates from a Christian home? If I should ask you men who has had the greatest influence upon your lives, you would tell me of the baby girl or of her whom your children call mother. But back of these three is another influence, which came into your life before you were born and hangs over it like a gold-encould now, though you may be old. And many a man would have to take his stand by Abraham Linchn, who said: 'All that I am, and all that I have, I owe to my angel mother."

Belfast, December 12.—A score of fires had burned themselves out in Cork by 4 o'clock this afternoon and the firemen were in possession of the ruins. At 6:30 o'clock this evening a special train left Dublin for Cork carrying Captain Myers, chief of the Dublin brigade, and a motor engine with crew.

A deputation of citizens of Cork, says a dispatch received here, including the Protestant bishop and the town clerk, waited on the officer commanding the Cork troops and requested him to take measures to prevent a recurrence of the appalling damage to property. He promised to send out spectal military patrols.

The destroyed city hall in Cork was only excelled in point of size in Ireland by Belfast's great civil building. This was the third time it had been set on fire, the firemen being driven out at the point of revolvers. On two previous occasions, the west wing, devoted to the public health department, was burned, but no mistake was made this time, the hall being set alight in many places. The great hall, seating 3,000 and having a fine organ, shared the fate of the municipal buildings.

gan, shared the fate of the municipal buildings.

No confirmation has been received here of the shooting of the Delaney brothers, but it is officially stated that one man was killed and eleven were wounded in the ambush which resulted in the reprisals.

The fact that no serious casualties were caused by the bombs is explained by the statement that preliminary warnings was given to all occupants of buildings to leave prior to the attacks.

Dublin, December 12.—A proclamation declaring that "the public must at once realize that Ireland is in a state of war with forces of the British crown" has been issued over the signature of the officer commanding troops of the Irish republican army at County Monaghan. The proclamation, which sets forth that armed thugs in County Monaghan have been attacking and murdering inofensive citizens, says that "while we extend the hand of friendship to all Irishmen, murder gangs and their gangs and informers shall be summarily dealt with."

Organizations Opposed.

Attention is again directed by the postmaster general to the growth of organizations among the postal employees and he urges that steps be taken to "curb the malicious and pernicious influence" of these organizations upon the postal personnel. He says they have operated to "interfere to a considerable extent with the efficient conduct" of the service, adding that "much of the so-called 'demoralized postal service' and 'dissatisfaction' exists only in the minds and imaginations of paid agitators of these organizations who install and hammer these doctrines into the minds of the employees through the medium of their publications." appropriations for new construction during the next fiscal year are included in the secretary's report, but his estimate of the cost of maintaining the naval establishment for the coming year is $679,-515,731 exclusive of any sums congress may add for new building. This is $240,000,000 more than was appropriated for the present fiscal year, but Mr. Daniels says the sum "is not really an increase," but is "necessary to carry on the construction of ships already authorized influence upon the department to compel submission to their deand the completion of shore establishments already begun by direction of congress."

The postal service head declares The postal service head declares the use of the strike agains the government by an "outside" organization is a menace to the welfare of the republic as it not only results in a divided allegiance, but engenders dissatisfaction, discontent and unrest and in the lowering of efficiency. The most pressing problem confronting the nation with regard to the national defense, thenaval secretary continues, is the immediate necessity for increasing the navar shore establishment facilities on

"Postal employees have become bold because of this affiliation and have within recent years threatened to strike." Mr. Burleson adds. "The day will not be by tendering their resignations and leaving in a body. In this case, they actually did so by tendering their resignations and leaving in a body. In this case, they were promptly indicted and prosecuted in the federal courts. "While strikes in the postal service may be averted for the time being, yet they will come, and the public will then be brought face to face with a most serious situation—one which will be a menace to our government."

Mr. Burleson also recounts in his diets now under a which congress has "The day will never come," Mr. Daniels says, "when a powerful fleet will not be based in the Pacific and it is essential that ample provision be made not only for the Pacific fleet, but for the whole American fleet in its stated periods of tactical exercises on the west

Among the new Pacific coast progovernment."

Mr. Burleson also recounts in his report the development of the foreign mails service of which a feature is the transpacific, South American and Mexican services. He says that in the past fiscal year the number of countries and colonies reached by American service was increased from 45 to 260 and that more rapid transportation was given because of a rehabilitated merchant marine service. jects now under consideration for which congress has been asked to provide funds are a deepwater docking and repair base, a submarine base and other developments at San Francisco; an aviation base at Sand Point, King county, Washington; a submarine, destroyer and aviation base at Port Angeles, Washington; a submarine base at Los Angeles; a submarine base and destroyer base at Astoria, Oregon; and a very extensive development of harbor and repair facilties at Hawaii. In all, the report declared, projects that ultimately will reach a cost of about $160,000,000 are urgently needed for the Pacific coast gently needed for the Pacific coast proper.

Characterizing Hawaii as the "crossroads and key to the Pacific" Mr. Daniels recommends the creation there of a fleet-operating base capable of accommodating the entire American navy with all auxiliaries. Facilities for a fleet of a thousand vessels could be developed at Hawaii, the report asserts, adding that "the stragetic location of Hawaii is realized, its possibilities have been carefully studied and set forth by naval experts and its development on a broad scale as a fleet base cannot be too strongly recommended."

Battleship Backbone of Fleet.

Battleship Backbone of Fleet.

Despite "sporadic criticism" in this country and abroad of the completion of capital ships authorized before the war, the battleship remains the "backbone" of the fleet. Secretary Daniels declares. The war proved that the time has not come for the abandonment of capital ships, he says, and in support of his declaration he points out that recent British building programs have included funds for dreadnaughts and battle cruisers and that Japan "has layed down five capital ships since the armistice and it is understood that eight others are projected for the near future." ers are projected for the near future."

A strong plea that all marine activities of the government be consolidated in the navy in the interests of economy and efficiency is made by the naval secretary. He declares that "America should have but one navy" and that at present there are various "little navies" under various government departments whose activities could be far more advantageously directed under a single control.

The navy department now operates a total of 979 vessels, Mr. Daniels points out, while the war department maintains a fleet of 730 craft, exclusive of 1,245 other vessels of various types used in har-

Amaigamation with the navy of the coast guard and the light-house and life-saving services is particularly urged by Mr. Daniels, and he also says "it would be to the advantage of the army as well as the navy if all United States transports were manned by the navy in time of peace as well as war." Six automobiles, stolen Saturday afternoon and night, were recovered Sunday by the police. In each case that "no policy adopted in recent years has a sounder military basis or has been more completely justified than that of maintaining two great fleets, one in each of the great oceans we are called upon to defend, with provision for their operation as one single fleet." Gratifying progress was made in target practice, in the training of new recruits and maneuvering during the year, the report adds.

Three Big Paving Projects Nearing Completion, After Many Delays.

Brunswick, Ga., December 12.—
(Special.)—Three of the largest paving projects in the state, delayed for many months for various reasons, are now in full sway in Glynn county, and within the next three or four months it is expected they will have all been completed, and Glynn county will then lay claim to the honor of having the best set of public roads to be found anywhere in the state.

One of the three projects is now

The second of the projects is also well under way, though the actual pouring of concrete has not yet started. The other project, and one in which all of Georgia is interested as much as Brunswick, is that across the Altamaha river, connecting Glynn and McIntosh counties, which has been closed to travel for many months, because of the junking of the old Georgia Coast and Piedmont railroad. The great connecting link of the Dixie highway is being built by the state, and unless there is some unforseen delay, will be completed by March. A large force is now engaged in building the road and repairing the two draw bridges. The road along the delta will be constructed of shell and will be of ample width to admit the passing of cars, while the draw bridges, over wnich cars were formerly transported in flat cars, is to be boarded so that cars. ormerly transported in flat cars, is to be boarded, so that cars is cross the entire delta, a distance of five miles, under their own power, thus doing away with the ferry and heavy expense and delay.

CONTRACTORS FINISH GRIFFIN ROAD WORK

Griffin, Ga., December 12 .- (Special.)—Two paying contractors who have been engaged for more than a year in laying brick and concrete streets and highways in Griffin and in particular, among those who will chare been engaged for more than a year in laying brick and concrete streets and highways in Griffin and is Spalding county, have completed 9 miles, 90 city blocks, of brick paving in Griffin and 20 miles of concrete roads on the Dixle highway and other state roads in the county. This is believed to be the record for rural counties in the state.

Two other contracting firms are still employed, one building a short section of about one and a half miles of concrete road and another on a five-mile contract for asphalt penetration macadam pavement on the Jackson-Newnan, via Griffin, highway. The completion of these contracts will occupy time running well into 1921.

Spalding county operates its own quarries and stone crushers, producing at home all of the crushed grap-

Laurens Crop Small.

Dublin. Ga., December 12.—(Special.)—Laurens county has indications now of not more than 19,000 bales of cotton for the season of 1920, against more than 20,000 for the crop of 1919. The ginnings up to November 1 this year were 17,054, as compared with 19,907, for the same period in 1919. This is probably the smallest crop of cotton the county has made since the civil war.

JAPAN CLASHES

"White Australia" Not Liked - Japan Appeals to England Against Australia.

Geneva, December 12 .- The league of nations will enter today into its first phase of constructive work for the bringing about of universal peace. The final discussion of a definite international tribunal of justice, coupled with the principle of the economic blockade and steps to disarmament, comes before the league assembly. The plan of the third commission as it will be presented to the delegates, differs little from the original scheme as drawn up at the Hague by the international commission of jurists of whom Elihu Root, of the United States, was an influential member. .

CAMPAIGN TO AID IN FIXING RETURNS FOR INCOME TAXES

Washington, December 12.—A county-to-county campaign by internal revenue officers to aid taxpayers in preparing their income tax returns was announced tonight by Commissioner Williams, to begin shortly after January 1 and continue until March 15, the final date for filing statistics of income tax for the year 1920.

Revenue officers assigned to the work of assisting taxpayers, Com-

Revenue officers assigned to the work of assisting taxpayers, Commissioner Williams said, will be prepared to answer all questions relative to exemptions and income.

"The bureau of internal revenue is urging taxpayers not to delay in filing their returns," the commissioner said. "Merchants and business men are now casting up their accounts for the calendar year of 1920. With the facts and figures necessary to make a correct tax return fresh in their minds, the making out of forms should be an easier task."

Mr. Williams explained that tax requirements for the next payments are the same as those for the year 1919, and he urged that all tax-payers begin at once to arrange for the filing of reports of their returns as well as lay plans for the payments, the first of which will be on March 15.

Late Cane Grindings.

Thomasville, Ga., December 12.—
(Special.)—Sugar cane grindings are still going on all throughout this section, it probably being the latest that these grindings have ever been held. This is owing to the lateness of the crop this season, some of it having been very much behind the usual time for maturing. Sale of syrup is still very slow, many growers holding their syrup with the idea that prices may be better after Christmas.

ARREST OF NEGRO MAY SOLVE PUZZLE OF RECENT THEFTS

Cornelius Pegram. aged 22, colored, of 300 Selina street, was Sunday night captured by Officer Englett, police state, as the negro was about to enter the store of Alex Moses, a Syrian, at 232 Decatur street, it is claimed. The police believe that the negro's arrest may lead to an explanation of recent burglaries which have for some time puzzled the department. Pegram was taken to headquarters, where, after being closely question by Officer Englett, and Detective James Doyal, he was held on a blanket charge of suspicion.

Police assert that they have information from Moses, the storekeeper, that his place had been entered earlier in the night by burglars who secured about 5.000 cigarettes. It is believed possible that the negro may have been one of the men, and that he might have come back to the store for more. Other circumstances, it is stated, lead the police to believe that the negro may have been cancerned in other burglaries.

REPORT SHOWS ANOTHER DROP IN FOOD PRICES

Last week's index number of Bradstreet's, based on the prices per pound of thirty-one articles used for food, is $3.66, which comused for food, is $3.66, which compares with $3.69 last week and $5.18 for the week ending December 11, 1919. Last week's number shows a loss of eight-tenths of 1 per cent from last week and of 29.3 per cent from the like week of last year, and is at the lowest level in three years and eight months.

Of the eighty commodities quoted, thirteen advanced as compared with week before last, twenty-eight deweek before last, twenty-eight clined and thirty-nine remained

DOWNWARD TREND STILL UNBROKEN IN COMMODITIES

Even after thirty-one consecutive weeks during which a comprehensive list of wholesale quotations has disclosed a preponderance of prices is perceptible. Last week's prices is perceptible. Last week's record, as compiled by Dun's Review, shows 73 declines and only 17 advances. Considerable irregularity prevailed in grain, prices being mainly influeuced by the fluctuations in the foreign demand, but the ultimate outcome was moderate improvement in corn cate and improvement in corn, oats and rye, with some yielding in sheep. Recent sharp price declines, due largely to foreign competition, stimulated demand for butter, and there was a recovery of about two cents in extras. Chees ruled firm, but abnormally high costs have curtailed consumption of eggs, and the best selections reflected some easiness. Medium and average quality offerings, however, scored more or less advance.

Continued adjustments in iron and steel prices have been a feature, but a somewhat better tone developed in the miscellaneous metals. In textiles and hides and leather, the undertone remains easy although fewer reductions now appear in published quotations. This is not surprising, in view of the previous marked recessions.

Savannah to Hold Auto Races During Shrine Convention

Savannah, Ga., December 12—(Special.)—At a meeting of the Savannah Automobile association last night it was decided to hold a series of pretentious, ambition races for the week of the Shriners' convention in this city next spring. The general scope of the event was decided upon and today O. P. Barr, of Bainbridge, was elected to have charge of the races. Mr. Barr is now in Nashville, and will go on to Indianapolis to confer with some of the prominent auto race prome.

Macon, Ga., December 12 .- (Special.)-B. B. Hopson, former husband of Mrs. F. E. Elmer, and father of Ernest Hopson, may figure in the Shepard murder case in connection with which his former wife and son are now being held along with Mrs. Annie Cutts and Mrs. Ioma Henry. The elder Hopson has arrived at Perry from Akron, Ohia, to be of whatever assistance he can to his son. His delay in arrival .s said to have been due to the necessity of arranging his personal affairs in the Ohio city.

Everything appears in readiness for the hearing on Tuesday morning before Judge Mathews in the superior court in this city, when the four defendants will seek their re-lease on bail. Affidavits have been assembled and the case was in such state today, Solicitor Garrett said, that he had had his first real day of rest since the case first developed.

At the hearing efforts will be made by the defense to force the state to present its entire case, including oral testimony from all the accused. The solicitor, however, believes that this is not necessary, and lawyers familiar with the case point to the fact that in more than one case Judge John P. Ross, now attorney for Mrs. Ioma Henry and Ernest Hopson, did not present the main facts in similar circumstances when he was serving as solicitor general.
